Description

Wake up to ocean views, walk to Minitas Beach in minutes, and let someone else handle breakfast.

Villa Erisa sits in Casa de Campo's Cacique neighborhood with direct sightlines to the Caribbean Sea and the golf course. The villa spans two levels and 1,541 m² of living space, with marble floors throughout and air conditioning in every room.

Seven bedrooms sleep up to 15 guests. Four have king beds. Two have double beds. One has bunks for the kids. Every bedroom has its own bathroom and closet, so nobody fights over mirror time.

The main living room opens wide to catch the breeze and the view. There's a formal dining room when you want it, two lounges when you don't, and an elevator if stairs aren't your thing.

Your stay includes a butler, housekeeper, cook, and waiter. They work from 8am to midnight. A 24/7 concierge can arrange yacht charters, private chefs, spa treatments, personal trainers, or a nanny if you need a few hours off.

A golf cart comes with the villa. You'll use it more than you think.

The property has two kitchens (hot and cold), covered parking, laundry facilities, and enough storage to handle a group this size.

Rates start at $9,500 per night in low season and go up to $20,000 during peak periods. Casa de Campo charges a resort fee separately ($25/adult per day, $12 for kids 4 to 12, free under 4) which gets you beach access, pool towels, and golf discounts.
